

What is this International Community? Is there such a thing, or is it merely a political fiction?

Words & meanings

- Inter-national means between or among nations.
- Nation comes from an older word for physical birth, as in natal, traditionally implying a people of common descent. However, in today's global world of multi-cultural, bureaucratic societies, nation has come to mean a separately enclosed, exclusively administered society.
- Community means a group of people living in the same place and/or sharing certain values.
- The International Community thus implies a group of nations which share certain values. So which among the various such groupings on Earth might be the International Community, spoken of with such certainty, especially by Western politicians and commentators?

- Sovereignty, with regard to regimes, implies the unquestionable, and in some cases divinely authorised, supremacy of a ruling elite. Its members normally strive to perpetuate the status quo of authority, power, wealth and privilege, under which they benefit the most.
- (Sovereign Nation) States and federations of states are essentially elaborate protection rackets, run by ruling elites who (a) collect taxes as their protection money, and (b) grant welfare benefits to 'their' citizens as a sop to offset discontent developing into revolution.

Thus humankind has long found itself divided and ruled, and further subdivided into various groupings by the kind of leaderships that require enemies in order to justify their own dominant, controlling positions as rulers and 'protectors' of 'their' people.

An old fashioned board game

However, as human consciousness continues to evolve into a new phase of global awareness, the world of sovereign nation states and federations will inevitably continue to evaporate into a kind of 'heritage' memory. Today it's little more than a superficial pretence, a fiction, desperately being promoted by those who think they're winning so long as it can be preserved. Meanwhile, its figurehead characters are increasingly becoming part of the celebrity culture and decreasingly commanding any significant measure of awe and respect.

As such, that decaying world is looking increasingly like an elaborate old fashioned board game in which the competing players shift around various symbolic bits and pieces in their attempts to win territorial and other advantages. It's all somewhat animal-like and primitive, requiring little grasp of humankind's essential inter-dependence in this global era.

From this reading of world events, the question then arises: In that game, what are the forces represented by the competing, supremacy-seeking players driving this process along its current troubled path – which seems ever more clearly to be heading for a convergence of disastrous consequences on Earth?

Behind the scenes

Looking beyond/behind/beneath the superficial game of sovereign nation states, into focus comes a triad of three supremacy-seeking religious traditions: Jews, Christians and Muslims. Operating on the cynical and treacherous principle of 'my enemy's enemy is my friend', the 'lower' worldly levels of this threesome can be seen to be deeply involved in most of the major world conflicts currently being featured on the mass media's artificial world stage.

Feminine Jews, masculine Muslims, confused Christians

From a longer perspective, a polarity of masculine and feminine characteristics among the three can be detected. Here it's necessary to recognise that the universal masculine and feminine principles are not to be confused with the physical gender of individual males and females. Each individual is a unique combination of the masculine and the feminine.

The Jewish tradition predominantly represents the universal feminine principle – evident in its subtle ways of manipulating people's feelings, especially fear, sympathy and personal loyalty, and its clever exploitation of money and indebtedness in order to maximise control. There are also the various muddled 'matrilineal' notions about who can claim to be a Jew.

The Muslim tradition is much more about the universal masculine principle – with its emphasis on brotherhood, martyrdom and heroic warrior characteristics, all directed towards establishing a world-dominating Islamic state. And that is despite the many bitterly contested divisions, rivalries and factions amongst its many 'brothers'. Then there's the continuing suppression of women, still not free to express themselves as individual human beings.

The Christian tradition, meanwhile, represents a confused, uneasy, uncomfortable and unbalanced compromise between the universal feminine and masculine principles. Thus its history of heroic warriors and cruel suppression, as well as its ongoing trouble dealing with sexuality, sexual abuse and the status of female ministers in the Church .

A treacherous alliance

Amidst all this, the treacherous alliance of Jews and Christians, sharing a common enemy, the Muslim Arabs, is evident all over the world. For example, the two can clearly be seen vying for supremacy in ruling that transient entity known as the USA, where their battle has been symbolised as flag versus banknote, Main Street versus Wall Street and so on.

Here, the deep financial indebtedness of the Christian federal administration to a certain group of Jews is being cleverly exploited – that is, by those who control the private global moneylending business known as the Federal Reserve, which is itself one branch of the global syndicate of central and arch-banks, SCAB. (the arch-banks being the IMF, World Bank and BIS, the central bank of the central banks). In terms of the 'board game' world, the USA is being required to use its military might and covert forces to disempower Israel's many enemies worldwide.

However, there's another possible perspective on this scenario. The 'Christian' element of the USA, in league with other allies could be seen to be cleverly setting up the Jewish State of Israel for annihilation. That is, at the hands of its embittered Muslim Arab neighbours and refugees, bitterly resentful after years of submission to arrogant Israeli self-indulgence, funded by SCAB and shielded by the military power of the SCAB-controlled USA.

The International Community

In this light, the term amounts to no more than a politically expedient word-form used mainly by the Jewish/Christian alliance of fanatics for global governance. It's their way of implicitly claiming the authority to speak on behalf of a fantasised, non-existent, worldwide community of nation states which supposedly support their warped ambitions.

So, it's a deliberately vague, imprecise alternative to explicitly and actively supporting the ideals of the United Nations. And that's partly because there is no unity – in the sense of harmony – among the world's nation states, each of which continues to require enemies, external and internal, in order for the current leaderships to justify their superior status.

So, what's really being promoted under The International Community banner is a set of perversely distorted values, intended to justify the power-lusting cravings of an alliance of fanatics for global dominance and control. Meanwhile, this pathological tendency is also being fiercely resisted by the inertia of those political conservatives who want to cling on to the advantages they feel they've gained under the present status quo.

Another passing triad

Those global ambitions are now also being challenged by another triad:

- (1) ancient and predominantly masculine, Confucian China,
- (2) ancient and predominantly feminine, Hindu India and
- (3) compromised masculine/feminine, predominantly Christian Russia.

However, these three federal conglomerates, consisting of many diverse peoples, will also inevitably continue to fragment and disintegrate, as the incoming era of humanity's *ascent out of matter** takes effect.

(*This era and the preceding descent into matter era of cosmic evolution, and various other matters only briefly touched upon here, are explained more fully in Notes from the Threshold, available as a free download from www.pathwayinitiatives.co.uk. The Threshold perspective enables one to see through and beyond the artificial scenery, props and disguises of the now redundant board game world of nation states and legalised financial trickery.)

So, taking the longer Threshold view, we can see the old descent era father figure, weapon-brandishing, flag-adorned Papa State, degenerating into impotence and irrelevance. Similarly, we can see the old descent era mother figure, spider-like, enticement-offering Mama SCAB, being consumed by her own pathological greed. For the pathological characteristics of both of them are products of the ignorance and fear resulting from the descent into matter era.

Hints and clues

Amidst all this the term, the International Community, does offer a small hint of optimism. And that is the fact that politicians and commentators now feel obliged at least to make a token reference to the interdependence of all humankind – even though it's cancelled out by their nationalistic politicking and pathetic subservience to the money-controlling SCAB empire. And so it continues, as long as humanity remains mesmerised by and addicted to the imaginary debt money conjured up out of nothing in SCAB's global financial scam.

A practical 'need-over-greed' vision

To conclude, in an age of global awareness and communications, the realisation can no longer be avoided that there is just one humanity, despite all the divisive 'us versus them' attempts of various power-lusting rulers and wannabe leaders. So, people all over the planet can now refuse to be intimidated and manipulated into participating in this out of date game of inter-national politics and pretend debt-money. For it's clear that passively following this path is leading humankind to a deadly convergence of catastrophic disasters.

An alternative way ahead is the practical prospect, outlined in Notes from the Threshold, of One Humanity together creating a wholly different kind of world. That is, a collectively self-interested world which prioritises real human need everywhere over pathological greed and divisive power-lusting, both of which arise from ignorance of the fundamental 'lost' knowledge, crucially also revealed in the Notes.

So, that was a brief glimpse beyond the distorted worldview conjured up by the expression, The International Community – one in a tradition of various other deliberately misleading titles, such as the USA Federal Reserve, which itself is not a federal institution but a private financial business... both reminiscent of George Orwell's 1984 Ministry of Truth.
