

B R E X I T 2016 : A false choice

What it's really all about (April 2016)

BREXIT: a false 'either/or' choice from a pre-set menu that excludes other options

"The smart way to keep people passive and obedient is to strictly limit the spectrum of acceptable opinion but allow very lively debate within that spectrum – even encourage the more critical and dissident views. That gives people the sense that there is free thinking going on, while all the time the presuppositions of the system are being reinforced by the limits being put on the range of the debate." (Noam Chomsky)

In this case an animated but false debate about the UK and EU is being stoked up in order to distract attention from the secretive global governance manoeuvrings going on behind the scenes. That's what is being indirectly alluded to in the coded warnings about a federal Europe, which itself is just one part of a wider, global strategy.

Once that is realised, neither of the two options on the pre-set referendum menu seems viable in the long term. For the 'leave' campaign is basically about regressing back into the old, dying world of nation states in a time of increasing global awareness, while the 'remain' campaign is advocating continuing in a direction that's also unfavourable for all humankind, although superficially advantageous for some in the short term... until its true implications start to become apparent.

Meanwhile, any dissident voices that reject the whole fake charade of a binary, either/or debate are being systematically excluded from all significant public forums by those who are able to pay for the algorithms that can sabotage unwelcome, questioning internet activity.

An unbalanced, unjust and unwholesome status quo can only result in unhappy outcomes. So, in order to achieve any significant improvements in ordinary people's lives, the bigger picture context has to be addressed and radical changes have to be made at all levels. However, that's not the intention of the current 'winners' under the present status quo.

Layers of the Onion

To read the situation more clearly it's necessary (a) to penetrate the superficial 'layers', so as to reveal what lies beneath, and (b) to acknowledge the huge elephant on the world stage that no one dares to mention in public (see Layer 3). This requires venturing out of familiar comfort zones and safe harbours into a mental space where bigger forces are at work. Otherwise the mass majority of UK citizens and others will remain trapped within the limits of a mind-box imposed on them, and will continue to suffer the worsening consequences.

Layer 1 The Context

Worldwide, people grow up to find that they've long been herded into various rival 'teams' – national, religious, ethnic, political, class etc – to which they're programmed to remain loyal at all costs. The resulting tangle of competing loyalties and rivalries renders them politically impotent and thus exploitable by ruling elites. It's ignorance-fear-divide-and-rule in action.

It's basically the same way that some authority figures, such as parents and teachers, keep children under control: ie by exploiting the natural competitive striving of children to establish their relative status in the various pecking orders they encounter as they grow up. Whole populations can similarly be controlled and distracted from realising they're being exploited. The 2016 UK/EU referendum is an example of such divisive manipulation.

The superficial case for leaving is essentially political, concerned with who's in charge regarding crucial decision-making. This represents a combination of 'go for it' bravado and a nostalgic, regressive attitude of attachment to the past, ie a mentality of old style, strong, protective leadership by an elite of 'big fish' in little (national) ponds.

The superficial case for remaining in is mainly based on domestic economics, ie selfish fear-and-greed money 'games, with a few dire warnings about war and peace and 'security' added on to stoke up some extra fear. However, after some reading between the lines and some decoding of the jargon, the unspoken agenda here appears to be a relentless push towards a conglomerate European superstate.

This would be a significant step in the direction of humankind eventually being herded into just a few such superstates, eventually to be ruled over by a single world government, a self-selecting elite which would itself amount to some kind of neo-feudal, fascist dictatorship. The forces behind this global governance push are referred to later in this piece.

So, the UK government of the day, regardless of normal party politics and the divisions such a referendum exposes, is under pressure to support the remain campaign if it wants to stay in office for a while longer.

Meanwhile, both 'sides' are clearly appealing to people's childlike self-interest, whether personal and financial or as 'us versus them' nationalists – as the power of nation states fades. Yet the high proportion of undecided and discontented voters appears to reflect how unconvinced many people are by the arguments of both sides in this artificial debate.

Beneath that outer superficial layer, another layer is revealed, at which nation states, transnational commercial corporations and other organisations are all competing against one another.

Layer 2 Nation states are protection rackets

First, the nation state is essentially an elaborate protection racket whose ruling elite – not to be confused with its powerless elected politicians – is essentially the dominant gang in that society. The taxes that the State collects are its protection money, some of which is used to provide just enough 'welfare' to prevent public discontent becoming revolutionary.

Nation states are expressions of humanity's masculine aspect, ie the universal masculine principle (see Layer 5), which is not to be confused with individual male gender. Nation states mutually need each other 'out there' as rivals, competitors or enemies in order for each's leadership to justify its own privileged position as protector. However, today the key to overall control and influence, ie soft power, is mainly money and who controls it.

That's because virtually all nation states are inescapably tied into the one global money system. This is a situation into which they've been cleverly enticed, and are now addicted and irretrievably in debt to the world's ultimate creditor, the monopoly supplier of the world's money, the global financial syndicate, symbolically named Mama SCAB (see Layer 3).

Sovereignty is one of the words frequently bandied about in the Brexit debate. However, there is no effective sovereignty any more because it has long been surrendered to this global financial syndicate. So, whenever it's reported in the news that America, the UK or some other country is doing or not doing this or that, it actually means that their controllers, ie their creditors, have either ordered or OK'd it.

Looking beneath that layer, what characterises the normally hidden world in which the subtle power of money is being so successfully wielded?

Layer 3 Strictly taboo: Mama SCAB and her worldwide web of debt

Mama SCAB is a symbolic name for the private moneylending business, ie the global Syndicate of Central and Arch-Banks, which is the unmentionable elephant on the world stage. It's a relic of a now departing dark era in human history, and it's poisoning all aspects of life on Earth. As a consequence, the dependency of nation states on fixes of SCAB's 'debt money' has now become normalised. But this subtle form of manipulation is obscured in the financial jargon of the SCAB-controlled news media. So, what does 'debt money' mean?

The story is that over centuries the central banks that now form SCAB have deviously acquired the exclusive worldwide monopoly rights to conjure up out of nothing this imaginary stuff called money wherever and whenever they choose and then lend it out at interest to governments and other financial organisations.

Meanwhile, most people today couldn't conceive of a world without money concerns dominating their lives. Yet they still don't understand how the grand deception works and how it originated. So, the more they're persuaded each day that money is essential to their lives on Earth – like air and water – the more addicted to and dependent on Mama SCAB's debt money they become. And SCAB, through subtle control of most of the world's mass media, makes sure that this state of affairs continues.

The fact is that it's all a huge confidence trick, a bluff, and one that the ruling elites of nation states and their compliant dependents prefer to cover up out of shame at their own impotence. So, it suits both SCAB and all nation states to keep the facts obscured.

There's also a religious dimension – as there is to most current world problems. And this concerns three especially troubled undercurrents affecting all world affairs: ie the competing ambitions of certain Jews, Muslims and Christians. (See *The Threshold Perspective)

However, once the layers have been recognised and penetrated, a longer term agenda is revealed. SCAB is the financial arm of those Khazari/Ashkenazi Zionists whose first target is Israeli global supremacy, as part of a much more ambitious agenda. And that is to be achieved through manipulating the world's money supply so that just about everyone ends up in debt to and under the control of Mama SCAB.

This is the key factor behind the ever-increasing so-called 'shortages of money' being experienced everywhere by all who are not in league with or favoured by Mama SCAB. The background to understanding the man-made sequence of economic boom and bust orchestrated by SCAB, is outlined in *The Threshold Perspective. Also explained is the ongoing inevitable waning in power and influence of this unique Jewish strand in human evolution.

Recently, crypto-currency enthusiasts have been optimistically promoting the idea of a new, transparent and mathematically 'pure' world money system to replace the old and irreparably corrupted one. But this idea hasn't evolved sufficiently to offer a realistic alternative.

So, in order to overcome the SCAB problem, it's necessary to look beyond that layer and discover what hidden factors are at work. For after considering those first three layers, it's possible to probe much further and deeper. Meanwhile, here are simplified sketches of Mama SCAB's worldwide web of debt and Papa State's pyramid of power.

Mama SCAB's Web of Debt

SCAB: the Syndicate of Central and Arch-Banks

– private monopoly controller of the world's money supply

It's arch-banks are the IMF, World Bank and BIS.

Papa State's pyramid of power

Layer 4 Papa State and Mama SCAB

These symbolic name-labels actually represent a harsh reality. Mama SCAB and Papa State are jointly in the business of mass deception and are mutually interdependent. Symbolically, Papa State represents the typical nation state's ruling elite, running a state protection racket. But this requires continuous injections of the money Mama SCAB conjures up out of nothing just to keep their joint charade in business. And she needs the protection and authority that Papa State can still provide.

So, their's is a loveless marriage of convenience. And their petty rivalry and mutual sniping can be detected in all areas of interaction between Mama's people, representing financial/commercial business and Papa's people in the world of official state institutions, civil and military. The hostility continuously ripples, in various forms, through all areas and levels of politics, finance, economics and religion. It also accounts for the main schisms and 'splits' which politicians and their parties have to try inelegantly to straddle... such as BREXIT.

The two figures can be seen as representing the 'darker' aspect of humanity's universal masculine and universal feminine principles... both from a dark era in cosmic and human evolution. (See *The Threshold Perspective)

And beneath that layer, yet closer to the core, is a clue to the nature of that era.

Layer 5 The cosmic time factor

Mama SCAB and Papa State are relics of a departing cosmic era of descent into matter, now being superseded by a polar opposite era of ascent out of matter. These phases of cosmic evolution are explained in a simple, straightforward way in *The Threshold Perspective

Briefly, first came the descent (or condensation) of primal consciousness into dense physical matter. In that phase, as the cosmos contracts, gravity prevails, and the universal contracting, focusing, penetrating, physically enforcing, masculine principle overpowers the expansive, receptive, accommodating, subtly manipulative and controlling, feminine principle.

In the current phase of transition towards an era of ascent out of matter, the process is reversed, as expansion, levity and the universal feminine principle begin to prevail. [Levity is the complementary polar opposite cosmic force to gravity, each one meaningless without the other, like light and dark or north and south... despite orthodox science still ignoring it]

The descent into matter era – by its very nature a contracting, masculine-dominated phase – gave birth to many separate, competing tribes, clans and then nation states.

And in that unbalanced context, humanity's compromised feminine aspect – mainly through a German Jewish family business in moneylending, known as Rothschild – gave birth to a single, global, banking syndicate, SCAB, which has since woven a worldwide web of debt. And as the world's ultimate creditor, it has been able to deviously play off the many nation states and corporations against one another and thereby control them.

In the UK in April 2016, the visiting US President did what he'd been instructed to do by his Zionist controllers, as is normal for presidents: he pushed for the UK to remain in the EU. Why? Because dividing the world up into just a few manageable conglomerate superstates is part of the long term 'supremacy' strategy of the financial Zionists (the neo-liberals and Mama SCAB), ie one distorted strand of humanity's descent era feminine aspect. The militaristic, political Zionists (neo-cons) are their descent era masculine counterparts.

One feature of SCAB's overall strategy is the way it hedges its bets by funding both sides in wars, revolutions and political elections. So, in the Brexit referendum, SCAB, as usual, will win either way. But it has a strong preference for the Remain side, because this could hasten the coming of a world of just a few controllable superstates, as already mentioned.

In the bigger picture, this is all part of the natural rebalancing of humanity's masculine and feminine aspects... as both Papa State and Mama SCAB fade away and the qualities of the incoming ascent era begin to predominate.

An all-inclusive understanding such as this is possible from the Threshold perspective. So, now there's a consistent way of detecting certain simple patterns and the overall coherence within any situation, however complex or incoherent it may at first seem. Which suggests some even deeper layers. But that would involve entering the dimension of esoteric thinking, which is beyond the scope of this article. So now, back to the UK/EU dilemma.

Conclusion What other options are there, apart from 'in or out'?

In order to overcome a deadlocked situation a transcendent alternative approach is needed. The quiet power of the Threshold perspective brings a fresh and new yet timeless way of thinking coherently about the problem, and could lead to very different and more favourable outcomes for all humankind. However, that necessarily involves people adopting a set of human values, based on a practical understanding of real human need, and a determination to rebalance deficiency and excess worldwide in relation to such need.

This is how universal principles work out in individual situations, and will not be a welcome prospect for those who think of themselves as 'winners' or at least 'doing OK' under the existing status quo. Meanwhile, life on Earth is deteriorating rapidly under the toxic spell of Mama SCAB, who's still manipulating world affairs through a worldwide web of debt.

So, although ultimately there's little or nothing to be gained from simply blaming, protesting, seeking vengeance or substituting the political puppets, it would be irresponsible to ignore the main factors behind much of the current suffering on Earth. Similarly, there's a universal humanitarian obligation to meet all real and present human needs. For the very existence of deprived and hungry populations implies increasing trouble to come for all humankind.

The Threshold perspective and One Humanity alternative

Thus there's now a clear, practical, open-ended challenge for humanity: If the old ways are not working, what kind of world do we collectively need and want instead? And how do we start to create such a world, both for ourselves and for the generations to come?

Which implies the further question: What do we first need to abandon in order to move on?

From the Threshold perspective, it's clear that humankind, in order to find fulfilment and to flourish, needs to evolve beyond its collective adolescence and childish dependence on Papa and Mama authority figures. It no longer needs protection racket, enemy-seeking nation states or a global banking syndicate of financial confidence tricksters. Humankind can meet all its natural needs without being divided into fear-and-greed-driven 'teams'.

Nor are divisive, supremacy-preaching religious organisations needed, which prey on people's fears, longings and fantasies. And it's now time to expose all the secretive alliances of global governance fanatics, driven by pathological power-lusting ambitions.

What could emerge from all this is a new and evolving global network of autonomous, practical, pioneer communities, willing to work at reawakening that elusive human quality called trust. Each would adapt to particular local conditions while all would explicitly and openly commit to certain agreed universal guiding principles.

In order to satisfy the worldwide human longing for justice and fairness, such a set-up would eventually have to be applicable to all humankind – which, as stated earlier, may not at first be a welcome prospect for some. So, there is no quick, election-winning fix.

What will help will be an express commitment from all who support this idea to cooperate in whatever ways they can in starting to eliminate all real human need. This would be a powerful statement of intent, and not just an impotent protest or empty gesture. All of which involves thinking in ways far beyond the narrow, shallow, mentality constricting Brexit debate and referendum, which is clearly an irrelevant distraction from much more significant issues.

Many voices today are crying out for radically new ways of thinking and living on this Earth. With that in mind, the inspired One Humanity (OH) vision, as a practical, do-able, long term, local and global project, is sketched out and offered in *The Threshold Perspective.

* The Threshold Perspective (2019) Paperback, 442pages ISBN 978-1-9000-341-4-2 £10 rrp also downloadable FREE as an ebook from www.pathwayinitiatives.co.uk

